INTRODUCTION

Circle K of HELP College of Arts and Technology is going to have an interactive educative session with the children from Agathians Home from July 15' to September 15'.

The interactive educative session includes Tuition Classes, Character Building Classes, Arts & Craft Classes, Medical Attention, Psychology Therapies, and Music & Dance through home tuition, outing and camping.

We have a team of communication, psychology, engineering, music and students with first aid knowledge which we can share and teach the children every bit of different fields. They will be expose to different areas and open up their mind about the fields available, allowing them to choose their interested field in future.

PROJECT OBJECTIVES

1. To discover their talents and help them reach their highest potential.
2. To help the children in their homework.
3. To provide them some skills which will be useful for their working life and able to support themselves in future.
4. To enhance happiness in their living environment.
5. To open up their mind about different fields and subjects.
